

FORGING CONSCIOUS LOVE

A Skill Building Workshop for Gay Men

Provided by licensed psychotherapists
Matt Ghezzi, LMHC & Kurt Robbins LMFT

THE DETAILS

- Would you like to get better at asking for what you want or need from your partner?
- Learn to have honest conversation with your partner about your sexual desires and expectations.
- Do you want help with handling conflict and confrontation within your relationship?
- Are you looking to get better at dating and being prepared for when that next big relationship happens?

Many gay men experience difficulty expressing feelings, acknowledging wants and needs, and finding role models or templates on how to be in relationship with one another. Frequently without trying, we may find ourselves acting as our parents did causing damage to the relationship we are in or leaving us wounded and doubtful that a relationship with another man can be possible. Fortunately, with practice and guidance, improving your relationship or opening yourself up to dating in an even healthier way is an option.

The Forging Conscious Love Workshop is a fun and helpful weekend of getting to know yourself and other gay men, improving your communication skills and building confidence in what you bring to the relationship you're in or want to be part of.

Investment in myself is $335.00:

I am ready to begin this next step in my growth, and I am committing to myself, and to others in the group, to fully complete this weekend. I understand that at times I may experience challenges and I commit to work through my issues with the teachers so that I gain all the benefits available to me for my personal growth.

I also understand that there are no refunds if I decide to leave before the weekend is over or if I cancel after April 20, 2018.
